MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Communications
Director of Finance
Director of Logistics
Director of Medical Services
Director of Personnel
Director of Security
Director of Training

SUBJECT : Length of Service Certificates

1. Attached is a roster of the members of your Office who, as of 17 September 1966, have completed 10 and 15 years of CIA service. Also attached are their individual certificates which you will want to present to them.

2. Certain controls must be observed, of course, in releasing these certificates. Many employees can properly retain their certificates and display them to friends and associates. Others cannot. The current or past cover status of an employee and his possible future assignments, including TDU, are factors to be considered in making this determination. In those instances where it is considered inadvisable for an employee to retain his certificate, it is suggested that after the formal presentation ceremony the certificate be returned for safekeeping and later released to the individual when appropriate. In view of the importance of this determination, you may in doubtful cases wish to return the certificate to the Executive Secretary of the Honor and Merit Awards Board for release at a more appropriate time.

3. The NMAB Executive Secretary [redacted] has asked to be informed of the dates on which your presentation ceremonies are held.

NATIONAL CIVIL SERVICE LEAGUE CAREER SERVICE AWARD NOMINEE FOR 1966

Dr. R. Jack Smith, now Deputy Director of Intelligence, was nominated as the Agency's candidate for the 1966 Career Service Award granted by the National Civil Service League. The League grants awards each year to ten career employees who exemplify in an outstanding manner efficiency, character, service, and achievement. In making the nomination, the Director said of Dr. Smith:

"I welcome the opportunity of nominating Dr. R. Jack Smith, the Director of Current Intelligence in the Central Intelligence Agency, for the 1966 Career Service Award. Dr. Smith's fine performance in the demanding and exacting profession of intelligence production and reporting ranks him as one of the top intelligence analysts in our country and an outstanding expert on foreign affairs. The quality and quantity of intelligence produced under Dr. Smith's direction, particularly during the Cuban crisis and the increasing involvement of the United States in Vietnam, has won wide acclaim in the United States intelligence community. I believe his professional competence and leadership and his contributions to our national security merit public recognition."

FEDERAL WOMAN'S AWARD FOR 1966

[redacted] Office of Current Intelligence, was nominated as the Agency's candidate for the Federal Woman's Award for 1966. This award is given annually to six women who have made outstanding contributions to the efficiency and quality of the Federal career service. In nominating [redacted] the Director stated:

STATINTL

" . . . the Central Intelligence Agency welcomes the opportunity to submit for the 1966 Federal Woman's Award the nomination of [redacted] a senior intelligence research analyst who is known in the United States intelligence community as a highly competent specialist on Vietnam and Southeast Asia affairs. [redacted] career in this Agency has been exceptional, and I believe her contributions to national security efforts merit public recognition."

WILLIAM A. JUMP MEMORIAL AWARD NOMINEE FOR 1966

Mr. John M. McMahon, Deputy Director of the Office of Special Projects, was nominated as the Agency's candidate for the William A. Jump Memorial Award, and was awarded the "Certificate of Recognition."

This award is presented annually to young Federal employees in recognition of outstanding accomplishments in the field of public administration.

In forwarding Mr. McMahon's nomination, the Director stated:

"Mr. McMahon has demonstrated during his fifteen years in the Central Intelligence Agency that he possesses executive-management ability to an extraordinary extent for an individual of his age and experience. His unusual talents in the fields of personnel management, financial administration, program analysis, organization, planning, and policy direction have accelerated his career advancement to a top executive position in one of the Agency's most important technological programs. He is a dynamic young administrator whose leadership and notable contributions to the effective management of this Agency are exceptional."

ARTHUR S. FLEMMING AWARDS NOMINEE FOR 1966

Dr. Albert D. Wheelon, Deputy Director for Science & Technology, was nominated by the Agency as its candidate for the Arthur S. Flemming Award sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D. C.

These awards are granted to young men in the Federal service for their outstanding work or major accomplishments in executive, administrative, scientific, and technical fields.

In nominating Dr. Wheelon, the Director stated:

"Dr. Wheelon, a brilliant and imaginative research scientist, has had a key role in the development and direction of the Agency's scientific research and technological programs. He has an outstanding record of academic preparation, professional competence and scientific leadership in the intelligence community of the United States. He has provided leadership, both as a scientist and as an administrator, in the management of complex scientific programs during a period when the development of scientific and technological capabilities has been of critical importance to the security of our nation. I believe his outstanding contributions to the scientific intelligence efforts of the United States and to the field of science merit public recognition."

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Ten and Fifteen Year Longevity Certificates

1. The attached rosters of persons in the Support Services list the names of individuals who have completed 10 and 15 years of service in this Agency as of 17 September 1966. Their individual certificates are enclosed.

2. The issuance of these certificates calls for certain controls to insure that their possession will not weaken the security and cover of those employees whose names should not be associated with the Agency. It is understood that a large number of employees can properly receive and retain the certificates and show them to interested friends and associates. In all cases, it is important that the background of the employee, his current and/or past cover status, the probable or possible nature of future assignments, including TDY, should be the factors determining the physical control of the certificate.

3. Determinations should be based on the above criteria as to the advisability of passing responsibility for the control of the certificate to the individual. In those instances where possession is considered inadvisable, it is suggested that following formal presentation of the certificate to the individual, the certificate be returned for safe-keeping and subsequent release to the individual when appropriate.

4. In view of the importance of this matter, it is recommended that where any doubt exists, the certificate be returned to the Executive Secretary, Honor and Merit Awards Board, to be released at a more appropriate time.

5. Please notify the Executive Secretary, HMAB, extension [redacted] of the dates on which your ceremonies will be held. Several programs are attached for your information and possible use.

To Mr. Bannerman via Mr. Warfield -

Regarding the Federal Paperwork Management Awards, I noted that the list of "nominees" contains 21 names whereas [redacted] memorandum refers to 20 nominees and winners. I called [redacted] who attended the Administrative Management Society meeting yesterday, to ask about this discrepancy and also to ask about the apparent confusion as to whether all 21 are "winners" or "nominees".

STATINTL

Jeanne said that there will be six special winners, whose names are followed by an asterisk on the list, and that she had asked specifically whether the others on the list were in fact winners and she was told "Yes, they are winners and will be treated as such and will be at the head table." She does not know the explanation for the list of 21 and the repeated reference to 20 by Administrative Management Society officers.

Jeanne says we should receive the official invitation to the banquet next week. The invitation should eliminate any doubt about the status of Mr. [redacted]

INVITATION -- BRIEFING

For the second straight year, the Administrative Management Society is sponsoring the Federal Paperwork Management Awards Program. We are greatly encouraged by the significant response to this year's program.

The Awards Program will take place at a Banquet on September 27, 1966 at 7:30 p.m., at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C., to recognize one or more Federal employees for outstanding efficiency in the management of Government Paperwork. This year, the Society will cite over 20 Federal employees for their efforts in developing programs of great significance in this drive for further advances in cutting Federal Paperwork which results in cost savings and increased efficiency.

The Honorable Elmer B. Staats, Comptroller General of the United States, will be the key speaker at the Awards Banquet in September. The Toastmaster for the Banquet will be Representative Edward P. Boland, Committee Appropriations, House of Representatives. The Awards will be made by our International President, L. W. Lynett, Manager, Administrative Services, IBM Corporation, Armonk, New York.

We would like to present the full AMS Awards Banquet story to you. We would be honored and delighted if you could meet with us, and other invited Public Affairs Officers, at a coffee-break and briefing to be held on September 7, at 10:00 a.m., room 105, National Archives Building, Washington, D. [redacted] has relentlessly pursued a program of improving the Agency's records and paperwork management for a period of fifteen years. Largely as a result of his professional competence and his leadership, we have an Agency-wide program which has significantly benefited the intelligence collection efforts of the Central Intelligence Agency and other elements in our intelligence community. I think his success in applying sound administrative principles to our Agency's complex and unique problems of records management and his efforts to inspire others to improve paperwork management merit public recognition.

I am very interested in all endeavors to improve administration in the Federal Government and wish to express my appreciation to the Officers and the Directors of the Society for focusing attention on professional achievements in the critical area of paperwork management.

Sincerely,

7/87 Richard Helms

Head Table Guests

FEDERAL PAPERWORK MANAGEMENT AWARDS BANQUET

We are indeed honored to have you as a Head Table guest for the first Annual Federal Paperwork Management Awards Banquet to be held at the Shoreham Hotel on Tuesday, September 27. I believe it will be helpful to you to have the following information as you plan your attendance at this dinner:

1. Dress for the Head Table will be appropriate Formal attire (Black Tie or uniform). If your wife will accompany you, appropriate Formal attire will be in order.
2. A corsage will be provided for the ladies.
3. You are invited to attend a Head Table Reception to be held in the Executive Room of the Shoreham Hotel at 6:30 p.m. We would request that you plan to arrive no later than 7:00 p.m. so that the Head Table guests can be lined up in proper position to proceed to the Ballroom for the start of the Banquet.
4. While complimentary tickets have been mailed to you, it will not be necessary to bring these tickets to the Banquet. Tickets for the Head Table will be given to the Captain of the waiters.
5. Place cards will be on the Head Table to identify your position should there be any confusion during the moving to the Head Table from the reception room.
6. Head Table guests will be introduced by Toastmaster Edward P. Boland following the service of the dinner.

It is our hope that this will be a memorable evening for your nominee as we recognize his outstanding record of achievement. We are appreciative of your presence on the Head Table as a further tribute to this outstanding person in your department or agency.
